You can make no better investment If we do not raise s amount requirheavily taxed to raise it, and none of us want to be taxed for everything is so high anyway and besides we Americans do not like to be forced to do anything.

There is scarcely a person that is of age that can not buy a bond of $50 if they try, and many can easily buy $500

Now you think this a great deal to lend, but wouldn't you rather pay a few dollars to the advantage of this war than to be under the rule of the Kalser. While the older people are buying Liberty Bonds the children can buy

53 U. S. TROOPS DIE WHEN SHIP IS TURPEDUED

British Transport Moldavia Is Sent Down by U-Bcat in the Channel.

MEN KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Victims Were Members of Company B, Fifty-Eighth United States Infantry, Fourth Division-Soldiera Were Asleep at Time.

London, Muy 27.-The German submarine which torpedoed the British steumer Inniscarra was sunk by nn American destroyer shortly afterward, it was aunounced. Prisoners from the submarine have been landed.

Washington, May 27.-The war department gave out the names of 53 members of Company B, Fifty-eighth United States infantry, Fourth division, missing from the torpedoed British steamer Moldavia. Few details of the tragedy of the Moldavia have been disclosed. The American soldiers missing are believed to have been sleeping when the vessel was attacked. The attack came early Thursday morning and the submarine succeeded in getting nwny unseen. According to survivors, the Moldavin was near the southeast coast of England on her way o an English port. Escorting destroyers rescued the survivors who had fallen into line on the deck of the ship immediately after the torpedo struck near the bridge. The soldlers lost all their belongings. Soldlere Were Asleep.

London, May 27.—Captala Johnson, an American infantry officer, who was on board the Moldavla, gave a Daily Telegraph representative this account of the sinking.

"The ship was struck just forward of the engines on the port side. All the troops were in their bunks sleeping in their uniforms. There was a loud explosion and then the ship's whistle was blown, which was a signal for everybody to come on deck. The men bad been assigned to particular bonts and boat drill had been held every day. The men assembled in perfect order. Their discipline was splendld, the best ever saw.

"The Moldavin fisted to port, but righted itself and rnn on for about 15 minutes to avoid being hit again. Then it began to sink steadily. Orders were given to lower the bonts and rafts and we got off."

"Destroyers had been circling around us all the time and as soon as the Moldavin was struck they dropped several depth charges. No second torpedo was fired and we saw nothing of the submarine. We remained in the life boats until the ship sunk, when we were tuken on bourd the destroy-

"As soon as the men got abourd the boats and rafts they began singing and laughing and when the ship sank they gave three cheers.

"Of the 56 missing, two are corporals and the others privates. I believe all were killed by the explosion."

Less than a quarter of an hour after the Moldavin had been torpedoed virfunlly every mun had gone over the sides of the vessel into the life bonts. Edwin and Clyde Bosley of North Troy, Vt., lcaped from the deck and were drowned. Had it not been for this the losses which are given officially as 56 American soldiers, would have been confined to those killed by the explosion of the torpedo. The Bosley brothers were on gunrd when the ship was struck. There was a sharp list, and they evidently believed she was turning over. Search was made for them, but they were not seen ofter they jumped overboard.

Hune Shift Sunken Ship. The Germans have succeeded in shifting the concrete-laden cruiser Vindictive, sunk in the harbor of Ostend on May 10 by British raiding forces.

The Vindictive, according to the Times, is now lying close alongside the eastern plers, leaving a passage abou' 30 feet wide. This is enough to allow destroyers to go in and out, but, nevertheless, the Germans are not using the harbor.

Unsuccessful attempts have been made by the Germans to dredge a pass sage between the two old cruisers ennk in the harbor of Zeehrugge. A German destroyer, sunk this week by bombe dropped by British naval airmen. Hes close to the cruisers.

The basin at Bruges, which is con-nected with both Ostend and Zecbrugge, is full of German chipping, but the canal is not being used.

HUMORIST HAD LAST LAUGH

How Mark Twain Turned Joke on Vienna Authorities Will Be New Story to Many.

The letters of Mark Twaln record but little concerning the years he spent in the Austrian capital, the Christian Science Monitor observes. The lumorist did some special writing for American papers during those "Wanderjahre." Indeed, the Vienna journalists took him to their hearts as a collengue of a particularly geniul type and often invited him to a friendly "spread," ut which the guests were memhers of the Austrian fourth estute. The story of how he got into trouble with the authorities, through the indiscretions of a Vienua journalist, has probably never been published.

As the tale goes, a certain reporter, either in a facetious or a vindictive moment, gave out that Mark Twain had

The Farmer's Share

Live stock is marketed from farmer to consumer at a lower cost than almost any other farm product.

The United States Department of agriculture reported in 1916 that the farmer gets for his cattle "approximately two-thirds to three-fourths" of the final retail price paid by the consumer for the resulting beef.

Under normal conditions, the farmer's share of retail prices of various farm products is approximately as follows:

> Potatoes Poultry

71 per cent CATTLE 662/3 to 75 per cent 65 per cent 55 per cent 45 per cent

The difference between farmer's price and retail price represents the necessary expenses of packing, freight and wholesale and retail distribution.

35 per cent

Swift & Company not only performs the manufacturing operations of preparing cattle for market in its wellequipped packing plants, but it pays the freight on meat to all parts of the United States, operates 500 branch distributing houses, and in most cases even delivers to the retail butcher. All this is done at an expense of less than 2 cents per pound, and at a profit of only about 1/4 of a cent per pound of beef.

Large volume of business and expert management, make possible this indispensable service, to the live-stock raiser and to the consumer, and make possible the larger proportion of retail prices received by farmers.

U. S. TO TREAT CAPTIVES WELL

Organization Being Perfected for Handling Prisoners.

IN CHARGE OF THE "M. P."

System to Be followed by the Provbst Combination of English and French Methods-Prison Camps to Be Object Lesson to Enemy in Humane Treatment.

Whatever fate awalts our soldlers who fall prisoners to the Germans; whatever hardships and tortures Karlsrube or the mines of Rheinhausen and Ewald have in store for them, a fact with which Fritz may well console himself is the comparative considera tion with which the American army will treat him when he greets us with a "kumerad."

While the American scheme for handling prisoners of war is still in the bryo, it may be said to be one of best that has yet been devised. For Lonths, American army men have been visiting lumense prison colonies in Great Britain and throughout France, They studied the systems in use in both countries, and while they have found no pronounced defects in the British system it is undoubtedly the French plan which they will follow closest la preparing the American camps. This, it is explained, is quite natural, as the American government will be dependent on the French for location of the collecting stations, distributing centers and the final quarters for the burraeks. The French have three large collecting stations in the Interior. It is more than likely that the American forces will be alloted one of these stations for its war prisoners until our own are completed and

A Great Experiment.

The handling of military prisoners in France has been a glgantle experlment in sociology. For the past three years the French government Las been conducting prison camps according to the newest formulae of group allmentation; It treats its prisoners somewhat after the manner of refugees, a population made henceless and lumgry by some disaster. This has been repented over and over again by every one who has come to France since the outbreak of the war. But it cannot be said too often. I have seen during the early days of the war linge concentracamps of homeless Belglans on the Dutch border. As the war progressed I made visits to neutral internment camps and saw the living conditions of Russian, Austrian and German soldlers. From what I have seen of French military prison methods I can say that In humaneness of treatment, the good quality of food and the llberty of movement allowed both officers and men no other untion, belligerent or neutral, which has eared for great masses of people during this war has equalled the generosity of France.

"We Americans have land a great deal of experience in sociology-more, world. We should find it luteresting work, applying our vast knowledge and experience to a new and unique phase of social science," said a high army official who has made a thorough study of prison camp methods in Europe. He spoke of the handling of war prisoners as being a real humane problem, and while emphasizing that a war prisoners' camp was not a plenic ground or a health resort, it was at the same time not a black hole for the breeding of diseases and the starving and torturing of human beings, as seemed to be the Prussian idea. I asked him him to the ranks of the blessed. whether he thought reprisals to he n satisfactory means of insuring hetter treatment for prisoners in Germany, I'd answered quickly that America would not and cannot enter into competition with mediaeval tryannism.

Germans Barbarous. "French captives in Germany have endured tremendous suffering, have dled of tuberculosis and skin diseases and of just plain starvation; the world knows and will long remember the story of that martyrdom. Yet despite intolerable sufferings of its men and the bitter insults and offensive trentment with which they were coupled, the French government policy has not been one of reprisal or limitation of German method. German pamphleteers were busy several months ago informing the neutrals and their own populations of the terrible hardships of Germun and Austrian prisoners in France and Great Britain. Switzerland sent investigators and observers to the French camps und they came home, not merely with reports of their observations but filled with enthusiasm for the system of treatment, the food, sanitary sleeping and llying quarters, hours of labor and opportunitles for recrention. The men who have found shelter in French camps are quite contented. Asido from the opinlon of the neutral observers, the testimony of the prisouers themselves is the best refutation of Germany's alle-No prisoner has yet been found who complained.

"The American prison camps, com-bining as they will the best of the Britsh and French systems, are expected to be a great object lesson to the enemy in the human treatment of prisoners of war. As in the French camps, the read ration will be an ample one, coniderably higher than that of the best fed allied soldiers in German prisons. The food will also be rationed liberally, attention belog especially, paid to the proper quantity of enlories required for a full-grown working person.

"The provost marshal-general's department, which will have charge of our prison camps, is at present netling as the pollee force of the army la France, Those precincts frequented by the American expeditionary force are always policed by the provost's M. P. A good percentage of the provost marshal's men are the l'alted States marines, always acknowledged as the finest army and navy 'eops' in the world. At the last count he had set up 1,434 blrd hoxes in scient Indian river and Rehoboth bay. tille arrangement so as to realize tho best possible results, On June 13, 1916, he found 292 bird finallies enjoying the hospitality of his houses, besides the multitudes breeding after the native, wild fashion in the trees, bushes and fields on his estute. Martins, bluebirds, tree swatbows, wreus, robins and phoebe birds are among the varieties in this bird refuge.

Mr. Stunrt takes great care to Inspect the premises every 21 days, these trips of inspection including the exact number of homes occupied, the number of nests, eggs or young, and the kluds of birds. The houses farther awny from the buildings are more freely used, especially by tree swallows and blueblrds. At a distance frem the buildings the little bird houses are mounted on fence posts, or on iron gus pipe eight or ten feet high. Others are on the edge of the woodland and in the interior of the woods.

$58.28 for Year's Food.

D. D. Dickey, englacer in a factory at Berberton, O., spent just $58.28 for food, or an average of about 15 cents a day, during 1917. Dickey worked ull through the year, twelve hours a day, six days a week and guined two pounds during the year. Dickey's menu had no place on it for meat and milk for steudy use, aithough he had them occasionally. Fruit and buked dishes made up a large part of the bill of fare.

Moorman Ditto has been transferred trom Camp Zachary Taylor to Camp Upton, Loog Island. 000

Judge Henry DeHaven Moorman, now private Henry DeHaven Moorman has arrived safely in France This information was received yesterday by Favorites both in school and at play. Bennett H. Young. Judge Moorman, it will be remembered, left his office in the tenth judicial district to join the army. He did not seek a commission, but went as a private. He did this notwithstanding he is over the draft age. He is in the artillery. 0 0 0

Commissioned as Second Lieut. Serg. Donnard J. Smith of Co. M. 336 Inf. Camp Zichary Taylor, was graduated last week as a 2od Lieutenant. He will be commissioned as soon as a vacancy occurs.

Dear Folks at Home:-Just a line to let you know I am well and I have sure been traveling some since I was at home, I did not think I would leave the States so soon, but jost got back to Camp and packed up my little satchel and was off.

Well I have heard much about sea sickness and I fully realize what it is now. Believe are you are sure sick, I dld not eat anything for three days. but when I got over that spell 1 could not get enough to eat, I thought about our victory. Victory is not purchasethat Easter dinner very often 1 certainly would like to be there to help break in the car. I suppose Isadore verted into labor and materials. A will try to come over to see me in it.

Excepting two days our trip on voyage Government. was line, the first two days the sea was rough.

Tell the boys they can seno me some can write every week. I will close. As ever,

Arthur Brisbane, the famous editorlai writer, says in June American Magazine:

"The Editor every day must answer the question, 'What interests people'' or he must fail.

"The question can be answered in thousands of ways. "This story is told of Cyrus II. K. Curtis: in days when he paid close attention to his magazines, before he became publisher of the 'Ledger.' Mr. Curlis saw on his desk a picture of Miss Alice Roosevelt as a very young girl. The line under it read 'Miss Alice Rooseyeit.

"That dld not satisfy Mr. Curtis. It was oot sufficiently interesting to the millions of women reading that partl cular publication. He added five words: 'in her first silk dress '

"The line read then, 'Miss Aiice Roosevelt in her first silk dress.'

"Young women and giris looked at the picture with sympathetic interest, older women studied it with memories of other years.

"Those five words in that particular for each word.

"Needless to say, it was Miss Ailce Roosevelt's first silk dress, otherwise the Curtis passion for accuracy would have forbidden the additional five

It Can't Re Done.

Few know hetter thon Vincent Tu bor the utter absurdity of trying to please the women of today. From evidence presented in the Court of Domestic Relations, writes a New York correspondent, it appears that he has at no time tried it, but the demands mode hy his wife have convinced him that there would be no hope anyway. The motter in consideration was a menns to keep Mr. Tnbor at work, a mems to force him to provide $8 a week for his wife's support and a menns to terminate his desperate struggle to drink a harried world dry. Way to Success.

Power is the gonl of every worthy ambition and only weakness comes from imitation or dependence on others, says a writer in Success. Power is self-developed, self-generated. We cannot increase the strength of our muscles by sitting in a gymnnsium and letting another exercise for us.

Nothing else so destroys the power to stand alone as the habit of leaning upon others. If you lean you never will be strong or original. Stund alone or bury your ambition to be somebody In the world.

The man who tries to give his chifdren a start in the world so that they will not have so hard a time as he had is unknowingly bringing disaster upon them. What he calls giving them a start probably will give them a setback in the world. Young people need nll the motive power they can get. They are naturally leaners, imitators, copiers, and it is easy for them to develop into echoes or linitations. They will not walk nione while you furnish crutches; they will fean upon you just ns long as you will let them. One of the greatest delusions that a human being could ever have is that he is permanently benefited by contin- Now is the time to Subscribe

Miners Live Long.

It is an extraordinary fact that even when deaths from accident are included, the rate of mortality among miners of Grent Britnin is materially lower than that among any other big class of labor, except ngriculturists, and appreclably idwer than the average rate of mortality among males. This fact was discovered by Doctor Tatham, while acting as superintendent of statistics in the office of the registrar generai. Doctor Tatham points out that while the risk of fatal accidents among the coal miners is much greater than among other maies generally, their risk of death by disease is much lower, being 16.6 per cent less than all occupled males, and 23.2 per cent less than that of all males. While coal miners appear to suffer more than the average mortailty from bronchitis, they show marked immunity from consumption, their mortality from that disease being less than half the average. From seuses of the nervous system their mortailty is 18 per cent lower; heart disease, 10 per cent lower, and from disease of the liver, 10 per cent lower han among all males.

EXPLAINS LAUGH OF BABIES

We Come Into This World of Sorrows With a Mysterious Sense of Humor.

The buman love of nonsense is a divine mystery. We have often heard pessimists declare that we come into the world weeping. It is truer, I think, to say that we come luto it hughing. For hughter in a baby seems to be its first conscious apprehension of some-Illing outside its small needs and pains. It may cry merely because a pla is sticking into it, but it lnughs beenuse already it sees something that makes It laugh, it knows not why, something that eatelies the eye or ear mid seems Irresistibly funny to it.

There is nothing more mysterious than a baby's sense of humor. It frequently bases it as it grows up, together with the other trailing clouds of glory, but most bubles are born with it. To satisfy it nursery thymes were invented, and to satisfy the same instinct in grown people "The Hunting of the Snark," that Incomparable classic, came into being, and Caverly and Gilbert and Lear stood on their heads, so to speak, and performed such verhal nntles before high henven as must have made the very angels laugh. When the Owl and the Pussy Cnt, having dined on mice and slices of quince, "hand in hand, on the edge of the snnd," "dance by the light of the moon," there is something which, as Stevenson was fond of saying, delights the grent heart of man. But, of course, with these modern artists of nonsense there is usually a deliberate attempt at the grotesque and the absurd. We know why we are laughlag, but with the old-fashioned rhymes of which I am chiefly thinking, we laugh-or, for that matter, cry, perhaps-without having any reason to give.—Richard Le Gallienne, in Harper's Magazine.

WHERE TO LOOK FOR WIFE

Seek Her in Butcher's Shop, Says This Writer, and Mark Just How She Buys.

A good housewife will look at fenst two square meals ahead of her nose. The modern system of marketing during the high cost regime is such a fine art that a youth contemplating matrimony should life to the market place for selecting a bride. My boy, Zim advises in Cartoons Magazine, when you see a maiden pinching, smelling and pricing a soup hone, you may rely on her sense of economy, for she is looking forward not less than two menls. The soup hone, when cooked, ls merely food in the rough or primitive state. Its choicest by-products are realized after boullion stage. Thereufter comes goulash, the eroquettes and the lusclous hash. By all means avoid the girl who orders choice cuts of porterhouse or English mutton chops. She will not make a good helpmale. But the girl who selects the chuck or neck pieces or the tail end of n ham bone, and renders them hito daluty, palatable dishes is the one you want. So take my advice and seek the nurket place when you feel that you furye had your ill of bachelor lonellness and wish a taste of wedlock. Follow such a girl around until you are perfectly satisfied, then null her.

The pronunciation of English proper aned arbitrarily an independent of ordinary rules. In England they pronounce the name of the poet Cowper, Cooper; that of Lord Cockburn, a former chief justice, Coburn; that of Enrl Cholmondeley, an English general and poet, Churuly. Marjorlbanks is pronounced Marchbanks, and Bolingbroke Is Bullingbrook. The name of Hawarden castle. where Gladstone died, is pronounced Harden, and that of Colonel St. Leger, who served in the revolutionary war, is pronounced Sillier.

These Americans downstnirs were not all bad, then. They were too rich, of course. No one should have ment three times a day, as the ment seffer reported they dld. And they were paying double rent for the apartment below. But thut, of course, they could not nyold, not knowing the real charge.

The boy was frankly delighted. And when old Adelbert brought forth from his basket a sausage and, folling it lightly, served him a slice between two pieces of brend, an odd friendship was begun that was to have unforeseen consequences. They had broken Gradually, over the meal, and the plgeons, and what not, old Adellert unburdened his heart. He told of his years at the opera, where he had kept his glusses clean und listened to the music until he knew by heart even the most difficult passages. He told of the crown prince, who always wished opera ghisses, not hecause he needed them, but because he liked to turn them wrong end before, and thus make the nudlence uppear at a great distance. And then he told of the loss of his position.

The American had listened politely, but his mind was on the crown prince. "Does he wenr u crown?" he demanded. "I saw him once in a corriage, but I think he had a hut. When will be be a king?"

"When the old king dies. He is very old now, I was in a hospital once, after a battle. And he came in. He put his land on my shoulder, like this"—he illustrated it on the child's smull one-"and sald-" Considering that old Adelbert no longer loved his king, it is strange to record that hls volce broke.

"Will he die soon?" Bobby put in. He found kings as much of n novelty as to Prince Ferdinand William Otto they were the usual thing.

"Who knows? But when he dies the city will learn at once. The great bell of the cathedral, which never rings save at such times, will toll. They say it is a sound never to be forgotten. I, of course, have never heard it. When it tolls, all in the city will fall on their knees and pray. It is the custom.

Boliby, reared to strict Preshyterlanism and accustomed to kneeling but once a day, and that at night beside his bed, in the strict privacy of his own apurtment, looked rather startled.
"What will they pray for?" he suid.

And old Adelbert, with a new bitterness, replied that the sons of kings needed much prayer, Sometimes they were hard and dld cruef things.

"And then the erown prince will be them," he reflected aloud. a king," Bobby reflected. "If I were a

Her eyes were wide and childlike, and it was a sort of reof Impliness. This also the governess could not understand. "So the old soldler is out of work." mused the head of the family. Head, thought the governess! When they wound him about their fingers! She liked men of sterner stuff. In her mountain country the men dld as they wished, and sometimes beat their wives by way of showing their nuthorlty. Under no circumstances, she felt, would this young man ever beat his wife. He was a weakling.

The weakling emiled across the table at the wife with the soft eyes, "How about It, mother?" he asked. "Shall the tirm of 'Bobby and I' offer him a job?"

"I would like it very much," said the weakling's wife, dropping her eyes to hide the pride in them,

Late that evenlag, old Adelbert's problem having been solved, Pepy the mold and Bobby had a long talk. Pepy sat in a low chair by the tiled stove In the kitchen, and knitted a stocking with a very large foot.

"What I want to know is this," said Boldy, swinging lds legs on the table: What are the terrorists?"

CHAPTER X.

The Committee of Ten.

On the evening of the annual day of mourning, the party returned from the fortress. The archdochess slept. The erown prince fulked, mostly to Hedwlg, and even she said little. After a time the silence affected the bay's hlgh spirits. He leaned back in his elmir on the deck of the launch, and watched the flying landscape,

How Would You Tle a Camel?

Because of its peculiar swaying metion in walking the camel hus been culted the "ship of the desert." This title may also have some reference to the extreme shipldly and possivity of the animal, which submits to great leads, which it will often carry for days at a time without stopping for food or drink, with no more urging than a ship would require from the hands of its pllot, says the Popular Science Monthly. The manner in which the drivers hobble the camels when they stop for a rest is interesting. ## Gold in Montana.

The lirst discovery of gold in Montana is accredited to a halfbreed Indian, who in 1852 found "colors" in gravel near the mouth of Gol creek, ii small stream that rises in the northeast corner of the Phillipsburg quadrangle, and the first workable places discovered in Montana were found on this creek in 1862, recites the Geological Press Survey Bulletin. A small quantity of gold was taken out of these gravels by means of shice boxes on the creek near the present site of Ploneer. The deposit atterward explofted by the Hope mine was discovered in December, 1864, and in 1865 Philipshurg was founded just south of the mine. Since that time the l'hillpslang district has produced about $50,900,000 in gold and silver.

Curlous Walking Feat.

The most curious wniking feat in Seetland dates back to a former century, when Sir Andrew Leith Hay and Lord Kennedy dld a grent walk for a from Bluir hall in Kineardineshire to Inverness in less time than Kennedy. They started off that very night at nine o'clock, in their evening clothes, with their shoes and slik stockings. Sir Andrew took the coach road via Huntly and Eigin, Lord Kennedy, with Captaln Ross as umpire, went straight across the Gramidans in pouring rain. They walked all that night, all next day, and the following night, and Lord Kennedy got to Inverness at six o'clock in the morning of the third day, and won his bet by four hours.

BECOMES INKSOME AT TIMES

No Matter What the Nature of One's Occupation, its Routine Will Occasionally Weary.

Are there times when your work becomes intolerably irksome? Yes? Well, don't jump at the conclusion that you are in the wrong place when this hap-There are many interesting associa- 'pens once in awhile. That will be true how well adapted you are to your occu-Plobs, where the king and queen re- pation, there will come times when your thoughts will wander, and the routine will weary you, and you will feel that any other work would be creich and the prince of Wales owing | chosen. One of the best-known woman writers of the last generation wrote plrants, telling them to do any work, even scrubbing floors, in preference to taking up a literary career. Undoubtedly she wrote at a time when her chosen work seemed unspeakably irkme, but If she had been cernered, she would probably have acknowledged that the profession of authorship has considerable to commend it when compared with scrubbing floors,

This occasional impatience with our vocation is inevitable. No matter how concental it is, there are times when It will seem a burden. The people who change their occupation every time it begins to bore them, are the tramps of the lasiness world.

As to Remarkable Longevity. We have all read of Thomas Parr, who lived to be one humired and fiftytwo. But these ciution, German specialists who have eases of extraordinary longevity lack

In the days when those persons lived no accurate chronological records were kept, and dates of occurrences were usually fixed by associating them In memory with other events helleved to have happened about the same time. A man's identity was liable to be confused with that of a grandfather of the same name.

Nowadays nobody lives to any such es. Why imagine that the extreme limits of longevity have shrunk within the last two or three centuries?

Winter's Discipline.

He who marvels at the beauty of the world in summer will find equal cause for wonder and admiration in winter. It is true the pomp and pageantry are swept away, but the essential elements remnin-the day and the night, the mountain and the valley, the elementel play not succession, and the perpetual presence of the infinite sky. In wluter the sturs seem to have rekindial their tires, the moon achieves a fuller triumph, and the henvens wenr look of more exalted simplicity. Summer is more wooling. . . . more versatile and human, appeals to the uffections and the sentiments, and fosters liquity and the art lumilse, Winter is of a more heroic cast, and addresses the intellect. The severe studies and disciplines come ensier in winter. One imposes larger tusks upon

How to Tell Age of Eggs. There is a simple method of ascertaining the age of eggs, based upon the fact that the niry space at the broad end of the egg increases with its nge. Now, when the egg is placed in n tumbler of water in which may amount of common salt is dissolved, it will, with increasing age, tend ever more to assume a position with its longitudinal axis in a perpendicular direction. A fresh laid egg will lie horizontally on the bottom of the vessel. An egg from three to four days old will rise with its broad end, so that its longitudinal axis forms with its horizontal axis an angle of 20 degrees. At the age of eight days the angle increases to 45 degrees, at the age of two weeks to 60 degrees, and at the age of three weeks to about 75 degrees. When the egg is more than a month old it will float perpendicularly on its small end.

Don't experiment on clothes now

This is no time to experiment in clothes. You may have enough money so that you can afford to take a chance on doubtful quality.

But you cant afford to waste resources that our fighters need.

When you buy cheap clothes you're not only wasting your money but you're wasting labor and wool.

You'll have to buy nearly two cheap cotton mixed suits to get the wear that is in one good all-wool suit. That requires nearly twice as much labor and at least one-half again as much wool.

> Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are all woul for long wear and economy: we sell them because we can say that about them. We dont say that because we have the clothes -there's a difference.

USING THE BOYS

Working Reserve as a Means of Relieving the Farm Labor Shortage.

County Agricultural Agent, Joseph Harth, has received a package of application cards to be used in securing boys to work on farms in this county. These hoys are members of the lloys' Working Reserve, a national organization having for its object the placing of young men between 16 and 21 years of age on the farms to help in piecing out the farm labor shortage. The Reserve is composed largely of young men of the city high schools. The plan has the official endorsement of President Wilson. It is not an experiment but has been in successful operation in Canada for the past two years. Last year several thousand Canadian city boys did service on farms, and in a majority It, but you don't understand It.

of cases their employers reported SUCH A SMART entire satisfaction. Out of 720 Chicago high school boys who were sent But It Is Entirely Probable Sister Did out on out ou farms in Illinois last summer, all but four made good. In most cases, farmers who used boys last year requested that they be furnished a boy again this year.

Although in many cases the boys of the Reserve are inexperienced in farm work, they are strong, healthy, intelligent, willing, and are inspired hy the patriotic desire to render faithful service. By exercising reasonable amount of patience and tact, farmers unquestionably make the work of these boys both helpful and grofitable. The boys may be taken on trial at a nomina wage until their value is shown. Terms may then be made which will fair both to the boy and the farmer.

Parmers wishing to secure the service of one or more boys for the summer should get in touch with their country agricultural agent and secure application eards. These eards should be filled out and returned to the county agent who will take steps at once to secure a boy for the applicant.
